

Remember:

- The apostrophe goes before the s in the person's name
- You only use an apostrophe if something belongs to that person

E.g. Unicorn's hair is multi-coloured and fluffy

Challenge 1:

Rewrite these sentences and place the apostrophe in the correct place:

- Chameleons outfit lights up with dazzling fairy lights
- Queen Bees face never alters even though her voice is spectacular
- Ducks outfit changes every week because she has difference wigs

Challenge 2:

Rewrite these sentences so they include a possessive apostrophe and a bit of description.

E.g. The voice belonging to Butterfly = Butterfly's voice intrigues the judges.

- The voice belonging to Butterfly
- The spikes belonging to Hedgehog
- The dance moves belonging to Unicorn

Challenge 3:

For each sentence below, use your editing pen to explain the mistake. Then rewrite the sentence correctly in your normal pen/pencil

- Hedgehogs' voice was croaky.
- Unicorn's danced like no one was watching.
- Queen Bee held Jo'els hand in the results.
- Chameleon always smile's at Rita Ora.
- Rita Oras prediction's are always the closest.

Remember:

- The apostrophe goes before the s in the person's name
- You only use an apostrophe if something belongs to that person

E.g. Unicorn's hair is multi-coloured and fluffy

Challenge 1:

Rewrite these sentences and place the apostrophe in the correct place:

- Chamelons outfit lights up with dazzling fairy lights.
- Queen Bees face never alters even though her voice is spectacular.
- Ducks outfit changes every week because she has difference wigs.
- Chameleons identify has already been revealed.
- Queen Bees song choices give us a clue about who she might be.

Challenge 2:

Rewrite these sentences so they include a possessive apostrophe and a bit of description.

E.g. The voice belonging to Butterfly = Butterfly's voice intrigues the judges.

- The voice belonging to Butterfly
- The spikes belonging to Hedgehog
- The dance moves belonging to Unicorn
- The eyes belonging to Duck
- The outfit belonging to Queenbee

Challenge 3:

- Now write your own sentences using a possessive apostrophe to describe things that belong to the contestants on the masked singer.

Remember:

- The apostrophe goes before the s in the person's name
- You only use an apostrophe if something belongs to that person

E.g. Unicorn's hair is multi-coloured and fluffy

Rewrite these sentences and place the apostrophe in the correct place:

- Chamelons outfit lights up with dazzling fairy lights.

- Queen Bees face never alters even though her voice is spectacular.

- Ducks outfit changes every week because she has difference wigs.

- Chameleons identify has already been revealed.

- Queen Bees song choices give us a clue about who she might be.

- The Masked Singer is Miss Heffernan's favourite television programme.

- Butterflys voice is beautiful and powerful.
