

Read each sentence. Is the underlined word a conjunction or a preposition?

1) We went for a walk since the sun was shining. (CONJUNCTION)

2) I have not seen Jade since nine o'clock this morning.
(PREPOSITION)

3) Let's keep going until the car runs out of petrol. (CONJUNCTION)

4) You stay here until the end of time. (PREPOSITION)

Read each sentence. Is the underlined word a determiner or a pronoun?

1) Mum gave me these grapes but I already had some at lunch time.

(PRONOUN)

2) I saw some lovely clothes in the shops on Saturday. (DETERMINER)

3) Put those red apples in the bowl over there. (DETERMINER)

4) Would you like to try those on? (PRONOUN)

Write a sentence using 'after' as a conjunction.
Then use it as a preposition.

conjunction:

for example: We can play football after we finish doing our homework.

preposition: for example: I asked Mum to collect me after football practice.

Write a sentence with 'this' as a determiner. Then use it as a pronoun.

Determiner: for example - I found this dog in the playground.

Pronoun: for example - Can you put this in the bin for me.

.