

Mu Approves!

Flippin' good food!

Fantastic Florida is actually the place where 80% of the nation's oranges and grapefruits are grown there. Key lime pie is a bit like Greece's cheesecake but way more scrumptious. The middle is filled with delicious thick cream which tastes like heaven but it is not pastry, it is yummy digestive biscuits with whipped cream and a slice of lime.

You might be wondering what you can have for dinner. It might not sound the best but it does taste amazing. When you end up eating it you won't be able to stop eating it. The reason it is called a stone crab is because of its extremely hard shell, they are harvested for their claws.

-Evie

Mu Approves!

Fabulous, friendly Florida animals

Take a fantasy journey into Florida's fabulous everglades, and you will probably not come out the same. Many marvelous, mysterious and magical creatures live and thrive in the murky waters of no other place in the world. The state of sunshine has many very interesting creatures to look out for. For example, the state bird, the mockingbird, has a very annoying talent. For they can mimic any sound, to sirens to crickets and even other birds. But this flowering fortress also has a heartbreaking fact, for wild Flamingos are now extinct in this sunny, spacious land and also the go-with-the-flow Florida Manatees are an endangered species.

-Ruby

Mu Approves!

Sequoia National Park

This peaceful, wonderful park has been around for more than 9,000 years with people living, working and playing in it. With the largest tree in the world known as the General Sherman. The beautiful green tree shockingly has a humongous weight of 2.5 million pounds and stands 257 feet tall from its base which is more than 100 feet wide.

-Seren

I have picked someone in this room's work at random, to see what editing we can do:

Florida the land of sunshine

Everybody loves getting a crispy brown tan in the summer ,well in Florida you can get a tan and much much more such as amazing foods, the world's best places to go\landmarks and huge cities with dazzling buildings and skyscrapers! Now you're probably wonder about all these things so let me tell you

Editing Criteria

- punctuation (commas, capital letters)
- vocabulary (are there better words that could be used?)
- Sentence structure.
- Appropriate choice of language/ phrasing

Your turn, you have 7 minutes editing time, make the changes with a pen on your writing in your book.

Then, when we begin writing, you can make the changes to it.

This is someone else from our class's writing. They need a bit of help with sentence starters.

This is the most explorable place to go and visit, California!

California is probably the best place to go see.

The big redwood trees are one of the tallest trees.

You may want to go see, but one is over 368f tall.

Vocabulary (setting, experiences, feelings)

glorious lively breathtaking tranquil awe-inspiring majestic spectacular calm bustling dazzling enormous fashionable glistening luxurious refreshing tempting floral homely exhilarating eager serene

Vocabulary (animals /wildlife) beautiful smooth large venomous scaly feathered fierce powerful colourful elegant fluffy slinky muscular vicious ferocious predator aggressive friendly interesting leafy flowers floral picturesque idyllic

Sentence Starters

In the far away...

An idyllic...

Throughout the landscape of...